Electronic Sources

How do I reference Electronic journal articles?

Example of citation within the text – Paraphrasing

Although it is important to recruit staff with good maths and English skills, sometimes good candidates miss out if they haven’t got the relevant qualifications (Faux, 2013)

Example of citation within the text – Direct quote

Faux (2013) is quick to point out that “there is an inevitable dilemma caused by the recognition of the importance of maths and English versus the need to attract talented candidates who may not have these qualifications” (p 10)

Example of how the reference for this source should appear:

Electronic journal articles - points to note

The following format should be used when referencing books:

The [accessed date] is included as often links to Web-based resources can change. By giving this information you are stating that the information you are referring to was correct at that time.